OVERVIEW

Douglas is a member of the Casualty Department where his areas of practice include motor vehicle liability, premises liability, trucking and transportation and general liability. He has handled hundreds of complex motor vehicle, and premises claims involving wrongful death, paralysis, loss of limb, burns, brain injuries, and other severe and permanent injuries.

Douglas dedicates most of his practice to suits and claims brought against Delaware Transit Corporation (DART). His extensive experience with motor vehicle liability claims has positioned him to represent the state transportation agency for more than 10 years.

Douglas graduated from Rutgers College in New Brunswick, New Jersey, in 1999 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics. Thereafter, he attended Widener University School of Law where he obtained his juris doctor in 2004. During his final year of law school, Douglas had the opportunity to serve as a judicial extern in the Supreme Court of Delaware for the Honorable Chief Justice Myron T. Steele.

Upon earning his law degree, Douglas served as law clerk to the Honorable William L. Witham, Jr., in Kent County Superior Court from 2004 to 2005. He was admitted to practice law in Delaware and New Jersey in 2005.
